Lacing up for a good cause

This year, Jeff, Nathaniel and Ethan are running a marathon for charity, and to remember their Grandma, Eileen. She was a force of nature, always participating in the community, and inspiring people to help each other.

Nathaniel
The Runner

I'm running this marathon in memory of my Grandma, to raise money, and for bragging rights over my Dad when I crush his time.

Jeff
The Veteran

I'll be pushing through dodgy knees with less speed than I recall having, to remember my Mum, and put my kids in their place.

Ethan
The Amateur

I'm here with no experience except almost missing a bus once, to remember our Grandma, and to not have run 0 marathons.
